RCI Battles Virus On Voyager Mega-ship

Royal Caribbean International says it will continue 'enhanced cleaning' onboard Voyager of the Seas' current New Zealand sailing, and assist clients in re-booking their cruise, after 135 guests and eight crew fell ill with what is believed to be norovirus on the ship's 18-night sailing around Australia and New Zealand. The affected passengers were confined to their cabins to help contain the illness, which spreads easily when people make contact with a surface an infected person has touched.

RCI says ill passengers have 'responded well' to over-the-counter medication administered onboard.

On the megaliner's Wellington-Sydney leg last week—with Travel Today onboard—food service in the Windjammer buffet was handled by staff, and crew were seen sanitising hand rails, elevator buttons and door handles throughout the voyage. The ship's bars were unable to serve bar snacks 'due to the sickness', said crew onboard.

After the cruise ended Fri, the ship's cabins were thoroughly sanitised before guests, travel agents and media boarded for a one-night cruise to nowhere, and again on Sat before Voyager sailed on a 14-night cruise to New Zealand, says the cruise line. The Sydney passenger terminal at Circular Quay was also thoroughly cleaned.

Royal Caribbean says it will assist clients in re-scheduling their holiday for another time if they are uncomfortable with taking their cruise.

JQ Adds Dec Flight

Jetstar has added another Melbourne-Auckland flight 23 Dec after it cancelled a flight scheduled for the same day—leaving some Melbourne-based Kiwis unable to return home for the festive season. "Everybody will get to Auckland in time for Christmas," says a JQ spokesman.

Travelsure Rebrand

Travelsure Travel Insurance will be rebranded as Cover-More from 05 Dec, and the company is reassuring agents that they will receive the same insurance products and emergency medical assistance service from the same Auckland-based team.

Travelsure has always been part of the Cover-More group and says the rebrand is about building on Cover-More's expanding brand reputation in Asia Pacific.

"This is a change in name only," says New Zealand general manager Scott Tasker. "Our business partners and agents can be assured that Cover-More New Zealand will carry on the same great service and level of customer care they enjoyed and depended on under the Travelsure brand."

New Zealand is an important market for the group and it is pleased to have one master brand in the region, adds Cover-More's Cameron Pearson.

Mile-High Appeal

Whether it's in the bathroom, wheelchair cupboard or under a blanket, air passengers in the Asia Pacific region are often up for a bit of in-flight naughtiness, says travel site Wego.

Of 3000 passengers surveyed by the site, 15% said they had witnessed some form of sexual conduct on an aircraft—although only a 'handful' admitted to taking part in the act themselves, says Wego.

Stories shared by respondents included a 'suggestive' message written in lipstick and left on a toilet mirror which was read by an elderly woman after the man it was intended for let her ahead of him in the queue; and a couple who fell out of the bathroom half-naked after failing to close the door properly. One reported an elderly man buying a seat for his life-sized female doll; and another passenger on a flight to New Zealand accompanied his girlfriend to the bathroom to 'distract' her from turbulence.

SB's New-Look A330

Aircalin's retrofitted A330 is back in service, featuring new seats, cabin design, IFE and crew uniforms. The A330, which operates on SB's AKL-NOU Sun service, now features 242 'Airgonomic' seats in economy while the Hibiscus Cabin has 24 lie-flat beds, with the number of seats in both cabins reduced. The brand-new IFE includes a wide choice of movies, music and TV, as well as USB and Apple port connector facilities; and both cabins feature a new design with colours reflecting New Caledonia's lagoons and red earth. The second A330 is due back in service in Dec.

"We are prouder than ever to promote New Caledonia on the international market and are committed to ensuring our customers enjoy top quality service in line with current international standards," says SB sales manager New Zealand Angela Hallett.

Top Gear Festival
Heading To Sydney

Top Gear presenters Jeremy Clarkson, James May and The Stig will host a massive line-up of cars, celebrities, challenges and stunts when the Top Gear Festival Sydney makes its Aussie debut at Sydney Motorsport Park 9-10 Mar 2013.

DNSW regional manager Wayne Deed has welcomed the addition of such a high profile event to Sydney's line-up and says it looks like the festival will be very popular with the New Zealand market. Kiwi wholesalers and retail chains have the product details and several already have groups planned for 2013, he adds.

The festival has been expanded from theatre shows of the past to an outdoor spectacular, featuring two live race circuits, the world's most expensive and powerful supercars, high-risk stunts, time trials, challenges (such as the 'Star in the Reasonably Priced Car') and the Red Bull Racing F1 team on a Sydney circuit for the first time. Festival-goers roaming the park can visit Live Action Zones, Off-road Challenge, Stunts and Jumps and the Paddock and Motoring Village. Clients can book a ticket in the grandstand and die-hard fans can opt for the Superfan Suite or Pit Roof Club. See topgearfestivalsydney.com.au

Must-dos For Kiwis

Hanmer Springs Thermal Pools and Spa has been named New Zealand's number one 'Must-Do' tourism attraction as voted for by Kiwis in the AA Tourism campaign.

The six-week campaign drew 283,000 votes split between 1600 attractions. Hanmer was followed by Rotorua's Polynesian Spa, Akaroa's Harbour Nature Cruises, Heliview Taranaki and the Otago Rail Trail in the top five, and AA Tourism said there was a leaning towards family-friendly soft adventure rather than traditional favourites like bungy-jumping. Events were also popular, with WOMAD receiving the most votes in that category and coming in at 17. For the full list, see aatravel.co.nz/101

Air NZ Unveils Hobbit-Inspired B777

The new Hobbit movie premieres this Wed but for plane-spotters the most exciting reveal was held on Sat, when Air New Zealand unveiled its Hobbit-inspired aircraft. Featuring characters from The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey, the new livery on the Boeing 777-300ER covers 830m² and is the largest graphic ever to be applied to an aircraft. It took six days and nearly 400 man hours to apply. "It's wonderful to see such a stunning image to celebrate The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey on one of Air New Zealand's largest international aircraft. It's a unique representation of the innovation and creativity of New Zealanders and a great opportunity to show off the incomparably beautiful landscape of this country," said film director Sir Peter Jackson. The aircraft was unveiled to special guests in Auckland before heading to London via Los Angeles. Hobbit cast members are boarding the 777 in London to be flown back to New Zealand in time for the movie's premiere in Wellington on Wed, and the aircraft too will make a brief appearance in the capital on the day. "New Zealand is the home of Middle Earth and The Hobbit movies will be hugely important to New Zealand's tourism industry in the next couple of years as international tourists are inspired to come and see and experience for themselves the landscapes which have shaped the movies," said outgoing NZ chief Rob Fyfe, adding that NZ wants passengers to 'experience the magic of Middle Earth as soon as they set foot on this aircraft'. The Hobbit-inspired 777 will be used on regular AKL-LAX-LHR services. A second 'flying billboard' will be launched next year to celebrate the second Hobbit movie.

1: Current NZ CEO Rob Fyfe welcoming invited guests.
2: The "Hobbit 777" in all its glory.
3/4/5/6: Invited guests witnessed the dramatic unveiling of the aircraft before it was towed out onto the tarmac.
7: Air NZ's CEO-designate Christopher Luxon with the aircraft as a backdrop.

Electronic collateral assists Travel Agents to generate sales

Travel no longer sells itself, so agents need to present and tempt clients with imaginative and innovative travel options to get them to part with their dollars . . . and thereby earn commission. The alternative: Let clients go to the web.

To help achieve this, Travel Today has developed two products to assist travel brokers, consultants and agency bosses to think “outside the square” and develop their own packages or tours to appeal to their particular client base.

Destinational Features are generally published one page a day over several days, and are available as a stand-alone electronic mini-brochure with a cover that can be personalised and branded so that brokers and agents can send selected features direct to clients.

Client-Mail flyers/mini-brochures enable brokers, consultants and agents to utilise e-mailed collateral to inform their client base of relevant and timely special offers . . . at no cost to them. All brokers or consultants have to do is ‘Click Here’ and send us back their details for their personalised flyer/mini-brochure
