Wallace Comes Home For Key NZ Role

Air New Zealand today announced more details of its corporate restructure, including the appointment of Cam Wallace (pictured) to the newly-created role, group general manager New Zealand and Pacific Islands.

see the carrier consolidate all the distribution channels (direct and indirect), all revenue and all retail marketing for the region into one area—making one person accountable for the performance of the region for the first time. Some in the trade

Travel Today understands Wallace, currently gm Australia, has been enticed home to take on the key new position which will bring all revenue generated from New Zealand and the Pacific Islands under his leadership. NZ did not comment on the finer details of the restructure by press-time, but Travel Today understands the move combines the responsibilities of the carrier's gm on-line and leisure, gm New Zealand and gm direct sales. Wallace's new wide-reaching role will have estimated the new structure will see Wallace overseeing over 50% of the carrier's revenue.

... More Appointments

In a staff update out today, incoming chief executive Christopher Luxon outlined a number of internal appointments under the restructure, effective 01 Jan, that he says will see the carrier operate its business on a functional structure rather than the current business unit structure.

The other senior appointments include: Jeff McDowall as new group gm commercial role. Travel Today understands he will be charged with looking after short- and long-haul pricing and revenue management. Under strategy, alliances and networks, Richard Thomson is gm networks and Betsy Lawrence takes on head of strategy. Chris Myers will be the new gm Americas from Mar, replacing Roger Poulton who is retiring. On the operations front, John Whittaker has been named group gm airports and Leeanne Langridge is the new head of cabin crew. Further restructure announcements are due out soon.

Raro Most Googled

Rarotonga was the overseas destination most searched for on Google by Kiwis in 2012, according to Google's latest Zeitgeist list. It was followed by Melbourne, Samoa, Fiji, Singapore, Vanuatu, Hawaii, Sydney, Japan and China.

TG's Cartel Fine

Thai Airways has been ordered to pay AUD7.5 million in penalties by the Federal Court in Sydney for engaging in cartel conduct. In delivering the judgement, Justice Katzmann said senior TG staff in Indonesia were 'deliberate and systematic' in their conduct. TG is the 13th airline to admit engaging in cartel conduct in the case—the ACCC trial against Air New Zealand and Garuda Indonesia continues.

NZ Extra Samoa Bags

Cyclone Evan caused 'significant damage' in Samoa last week, leaving many people without basics including clothing—so Air New Zealand is allowing clients travelling to Samoa to bring 23kg of extra baggage to help out. Passengers travelling AKL-APW 17-30 Dec will be allowed an extra 23kg each of personal effects only (no perishables).

Those travelling 17-24 Dec won't be able to take the baggage the day they travel, and will need to arrange for it to be taken to Auckland International Cargo between 25-30 Dec. They will need to uplift it from Apia Cargo when it arrives.

Clients travelling 25-30 Dec can take the extra piece to AKL Airport on the day of travel. The offer is subject to space and the baggage might not travel on the same flight as the passenger—in this event they will need to uplift their baggage from APW when it arrives.

Fiji Battens Down As Evan Approaches

Flights have been cancelled and guests evacuated from outlying islands in Fiji after Cyclone Evan began buffeting the country with heavy winds and rain last night.

Airlines including Air New Zealand and Air Pacific cancelled flights to and from Fiji as Evan, now a category four storm, tracks west of the main island of Viti Levu and the Yasawa and Mamanuca Islands today.

The cyclone is forecast to be about 70 nautical miles west of Nadi at around 1600 today, the closest it is expected to come to the main island, Tourism Fiji advised this morning.

Those in the central/eastern division have been urged to move to higher ground as flooding is expected.

Around 2700 guests have been relocated to Viti Levu from the outer islands, and there is still hotel capacity on the mainland, says the NTO. Plantation Island said this morning there are no longer any guests on the island, while Castaway Island is not accepting any new guests until Evan passes.

Air Pacific boss Dave Pflieger says it appears the strong wind and rain will be gone by around midday tomorrow, and it will update passengers as soon as possible on when flights will resume. FJ is allowing passengers booked to fly 16-21 Dec to rebook for travel up until 31 Mar, free of charge. Air New Zealand has rescheduled today's flights to operate tomorrow, with NZ757 AKL-NAN operating as a 767 departing 1250; and NZ753 NAN-AKL departing 1630. Tomorrow's NZ52 and NZ53 AKL-NAN-AKL are expected to operate as normal.

... Samoa Recovery

Cyclone Evan caused widespread damage in Samoa before heading to Fiji. Most hotels in Apia are operational and with only minor damage, while others including Sinalei Reef Resort reported 'some damage' but nothing major, says Apia-based operator Polynesian Explorer. It is still waiting to hear from properties in areas where phone and power has not yet been restored.

Meanwhile NZ says while its flight schedule has resumed, the aftermath in Samoa is 'significant'. Clients booked to travel on or before 16 Jan can bring their travel forward, with the change fee and additional fare waived, or defer it until after, and have the change fee waived.

QF Tasman Fares

Qantas has made changes to its long-term fares to Australia for sales and ticketing from 08 Jan, with increases to fares on some routes and decreases on others. They include QREDZ fares AKL-BNE/MEL and WLG-SYD increasing $5 and CHC-SYD up $10. NREDZ fares AKL-MEL/SYD will go up $10; LFEZX fares AKL-BNE and WLG-SYD will fall $10; AKL/CHC-SYD will drop by $20.

EY's Aussie MoU

Tourism Australia and Etihad Airways have inked a memorandum of understanding worth AUD6 million over the next three years.

Campaigns will aim to attract visitors to Australia from the Middle East, UK and Europe. EY chief executive James Hogan says Australia 'contributes significantly to the airline's bottom line', and the airline dedicates 16% of total capacity to its Australian operation.

Both parties will seek the involvement of the states and territories in future campaigns, says a statement from TA.

Airways Reshuffle

Airways has announced the final two appointments following a 'significant organisation redesign' that saw the re-creation of 18 new roles.

Over 1000 people globally applied to work at the air traffic control organisation, with the final two roles given to international candidates.

Pauline Lamb, currently operations director for the UK's air traffic controller NATS, has been appointed general manager system operator; and Susan D'Ath Weston, most recently head of safety for Qantas, has been appointed head of safety and standards. Both will be based in Christchurch.

"We've set ourselves some very challenging safety, operations, revenue and profitability targets over the next 10 years. I'm now more confident than ever that we have the capacity to deliver on those targets," said Airways boss Ed Sims in welcoming the new staff.

AKL Guest Nights Up

More New Zealanders are visiting Auckland and they're spending more there too, according to the latest tourism statistics.

Auckland domestic guest nights in commercial accommodation were up 9.9% in Oct, year-on-year, building on an 11.8% in Sep. At the same time accommodation spend by the domestic market rose 16% in Oct, showing a jump in domestic visitation over the tourism industry's shoulder months.

"This result is especially heartening given that last spring was when Auckland hosted Rugby World Cup, which was a considerable driver of visitation," says Auckland Tourism, Events and Economic Development (ATEED) manager tourism Jason Hill.

There were a number of events on in Auckland over the period under review, such as Mary Poppins and the ITU Triathlon World Championships Grand Final, which also coincided with ATEED's inaugural domestic tourism campaign.

Electronic collateral assists Travel Agents to generate sales

Travel no longer sells itself, so agents need to present and tempt clients with imaginative and innovative travel options to get them to part with their dollars . . . and thereby earn commission. The alternative: Let clients go to the web.

To help achieve this, Travel Today has developed two products to assist travel brokers, consultants and agency bosses to think “outside the square” and develop their own packages or tours to appeal to their particular client base.

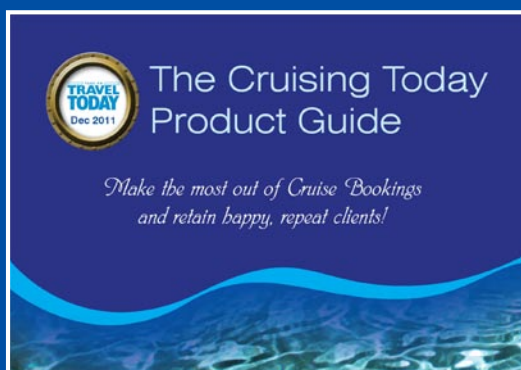

Destinational Features are generally published one page a day over several days, and are available as a stand-alone electronic mini-brochure with a cover that can be personalised and branded so that brokers and agents can send selected features direct to clients.

Client-Mail flyers/mini-brochures enable brokers, consultants and agents to utilise e-mailed collateral to inform their client base of relevant and timely special offers . . . at no cost to them. All brokers or consultants have to do is ‘Click Here’ and send us back their details for their personalised flyer/mini-brochure
