TAANZ: Have Your Say, Please

You've had a lot to say, so now's the time to tell us what you think, that's the message to TAANZ members from chairman Brent Thomas.

The new-look TAANZ board is undertaking a strategic review and is seeking member feedback through an on-line survey being launched tomorrow.

However, the agent body wants to hear from as many of its members as possible to ensure it has a cross section of industry views.

"To be frank we've had quite a bit of feedback from members saying that they want a change in direction and want to get value from their annual fees," says Brent. "So this is a time where agents are being given the opportunity to have their say. I can't remember the last time there was a membership survey; and we need to hear from everyone, from as many people as possible, to ensure we get the widest range of views."

"Quite simply it could be a case of speak up or shut up," adds Brent. The new-look TAANZ board is now focused on delivering a relevant and effective value proposition to our members that addresses the challenges and opportunities that we face collectively across the industry', adds the TAANZ chair.

... The Details

The TAANZ member survey is being conducted by an external provider, following input from the TAANZ board and management, with a view of offering an insight into what the respondents believe adds value and those that don't. A link to the on-line survey will be sent out to all full members tomorrow. The agent body is asking members who do not receive the link to first check their spam and junk folders and then contact TAANZ if they still have not received the link.

OTA Liquidation
 Australian based online travel agent fly365.com has entered liquidation. There is no word on how many Kiwi travellers may be affected. Travel Today understands that helloworld's air tickets division was among the consolidators in this market.

Get Fit In NYC

From naked yoga to indoor surfing, New York City has literally everything to keep your clients entertained. Top picks, as curated by Time Out, include Naked in Motion, which offers nude yoga and pilates classes, belly dancing classes at Bellyqueen and for something really cool, there's Brrrn. which offers high-intensity interval training in a frigid 10° studio. Also highlighted is Surfset NYC where clients can surf inside and 'cut waves', AquaStudio, which sees clients cycle under water for a spinning/swimming combo and Shock Therapy Fitness, which is literally what it sounds like; clients will get low frequency shocks while they exercise.

JAWS+ Reminder

Agents are reminded that there is still time to register to attend one of the upcoming JAWS+ roadshow, which starts in Dunedin 03 Mar. There will be a sales update from up to 22 airline, tour and cruise sales executives, as well as a selection of prizes up for grabs. For all the dates and venues, see Travel Today's Industry Diary.

AA DFW Tex-Mex

American Airlines, in conjunction with alliance partner Qantas, Visit Dallas and Visit Fort-Worth treated trade partners to a fun-filled evening of margaritas and Tex Mex in Auckland on Fri. The cooking class proved a hit, as those in the trade were updated on Dallas and Fort-Worth along the way. Pictured, on the margarita station naturally is, from left, AA's Elaine Patton, Andrew Bowman from NZTB, Michael Graham from Fuzion Travel and House of Travel's Cullam Murchison.

QF On SA Issues

For PNRs effected by the South African Airways domestic cancellations, Qantas says agents should use the commercial policy found on the QF Agency Connect website under Agency News. Worth noting is that Mango flights are not eligible for reissue on QF ticket stock. British Airways flight numbers operated by Commair are permitted in the lowest available booking class in the same cabin. For more information, agents can contact QAC on 0800 731 313; select option 3.

Covid-19; Struggle As It Spreads

Air New Zealand has today cut more services and is revising its financial outlook due to impact of coronavirus (Covid-19) and softer travel demand—as the industry nervously ponders the wider impact the virus will have on the New Zealand economy and outbound travel.

NZ now expects a net negative impact to earnings in the range of $35-$75 million. At the midpoint of the estimated range above (approx.. $55 million) NZ is targeting earnings before other significant items and taxation to be in a range of approximately $300-$350 million.

... Capacity Cuts

As reported in the Stop Press earlier the carrier has suspended its Auckland-Seoul service for travel 08 Mar-29 Jun; made Tasman capacity reductions of 3% Mar-May, focused on AKL-SYD services with ad hoc changes to AKL-MEL and AKL-BNE. NZ is also reducing by its domestic capacity 2% Mar-Apr, focused on travel between AKL-CHC and AKL-ZQN. The changes will progressively be rolled out this week, see wingtips for rebooking details.

... Effects Spread

NZ is not the only one feeling the impact. The effects of Covid-19 on the tourism industry are increasing daily and its growing impact is being felt by all industry stakeholders, says the Pacific Asia Travel Association (PATA), which is encouraging the industry to show messages of kindness and support to respective partners and suppliers in China. "Building and maintaining a close relationship with your partners in China during this difficult time is key to quicker recovery once this situation is behind us," says PATA ceo Dr Mario Hardy. "More than ever our industry needs to stand together, put our competitive interests aside and partner for a better tomorrow."

... The Spread

At the same time, parts of Italy are shutting up shop, as Covid-19 breaks out. The Venice Carnival has reportedly been cut short, amid Covid-19 related fatalities and quarantine restrictions have been put in place which restricts people from entering or leaving several towns in Veneto and Lombardy. Many businesses, schools and universities have also closed temporarily, and sporting matches have been cancelled. Outside of China; Hong Kong, Taiwan, France, Iran and the Philippines have also had Covid-19 fatalities. Meanwhile, South Korea has issued a 'red alert' following five deaths and nearly 600 cases.

... Hotels Need Help

Ovolo group is lobbying the Hong Kong Government for relief measures, as the tourism industry struggles with the outbreak. The Covid-19 outbreak is effectively putting tourism on hold for the 84,000 rooms that call Hong Kong home, says Ovolo, adding that daily visitors have fallen to a mere 3000, down 97% from the 90,000 overnight visitors seen daily in Feb last year. Ovolo is asking the government to help 'before it's too late'.

... China Ban

Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern has this afternoon confirmed the travel ban on foreign nationals coming from China would continue for eight more days, in an effort to prevent the virus coming to New Zealand, according to the NZ Herald.

QF Regional Manager

Qantas has appointed Nathan Jones as its Regional Account Manager South Island. Nathan, who previously worked at Travelcube/Bedsonline, joins QF following a number of changes to the New Zealand Qantas sales structure, and will be reporting to Rebecca Slee, QF sales manager for New Zealand.

CZ Cancels CHC

China Southern has cancelled its thrice weekly 787-9 Guangzhou-Christchurch service 29 Mar-20 Jun as part of its operational aircraft changes. Between Auckland and CAN, the current 787-9 will be replaced with a 787-8 29 Mar-19 Jun (four weekly services) and seven weekly services from 20 Jun. Refer to the GDS.

Alitalia Awards

Alitalia was honoured in the Global Travellers awards, taking home Best Business Class Seat Design for its Magnifica seats and Best Airline Cuisine.

CMV Unites With CLIA In Australasia

Cruise & Maritime Voyages (CMV) has joined Cruise Lines International Association (CLIA) as a Regional Cruise Line, Australasia.

CLIA Australasia md Joel Katz says the addition of CMV to CLIA's membership highlighted the growing importance of cruising in the wider tourism industry. "Cruise & Maritime Voyages has put particular focus on developing new destinations and regional itineraries," says Joel.

"It's a great example of the expansion of cruise tourism into regional locations around Australasia and we're delighted CMV has shown such a commitment to our part of the world," he adds.

CMV Australia md Dean Brazier says the cruise line is eager to work closely with CLIA, as well as other regional tourism and government bodies, to develop new cruise ports for CMV throughout the region and continue to grow its presence in these markets. Cruise & Maritime Voyages offers a traditional, British cruise experience and currently operates a fleet of six small to mid-sized ships, including the 1220-passenger Vasco da Gama (pictured), which homeports in Adelaide and Fremantle during the Australian summer.

MSC Berthing

MSC Cruises has signed a long-term deal with Abu Dhabi Ports for preferential berthing rights at both the Zayed Port, the gateway to Abu Dhabi, and Sir Bani Yas Island, a UAE beach oasis.

Tauck's Portuguese Nod

Tauck's newest riverboat, the ms Andorinha will set sail on the Douro River in Apr following its 31 Mar christening, advises Cruise World. The 84-guest riverboat's interior is influenced by the Portuguese culture, with traditional hand painted tiles, carpeting and lamps featuring throughout the ship, which Tauck ceo Dan Maher says successfully incorporates local influences, while bringing Tauck's casual elegant style of river cruising to Douro.

Clients will be able to choose from three Douro itineraries this year: a 12-day land cruise tour of Lisbon and Madrid; and eight-day cruise only and an eight-day Tauck Bridges cruise designed specifically for families. For more information visit tauck.co.nz

Oceania Launches Tropics & Exotics

New Zealand is the fourth largest source market for Oceania globally, and continues to move from strength to strength, says national sales manager New Zealand Alan Wilcock.

“Kiwis are certainly understanding more about the Oceania experience, our point of difference, as well as what we offer on their cruise holiday,” he says.

The news comes as Oceania Cruises releases its 2021-2022 Tropics & Exotics Collection comprising of more than 100 itineraries, over 75 entirely new, and 13 new port visits.

The programme features one-of-a-kind touring options in Africa, an Antarctic voyage and a journey to the southernmost reaches of South America.

“We have also opted to highlight cruises away from our usual main destinations with launch itineraries through both the Suez and Panama canals and cruises around Tahiti that include Nuku Hiva in the Marquesas Islands,” adds Alan.

... Cruise Events

Agents are invited to bring their clients along to Oceania Cruises' upcoming Agent Bring Client (ABC) events in Auckland and Tauranga, where they will learn about the cruise line's new collection including an overview of land programmes and shore excursions as well as limited time offers.

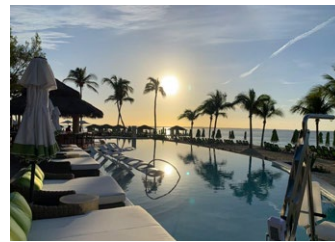

The ABC events are also designed to help agents sell the Oceania product and outline to agents and their clients what is Oceania's point of difference. Register HERE.
